HOW will you use the information you learned?

Participants overall mentioned they will:

- Understand speech development, including Gestalt Language Processing
- View echolalia and scripting as a form of communication and a foundation on which to build language
- Work with parents and interdisciplinary teams to ensure a shared understanding of different processes of language development
- Inform decisions and assessments for GLPs

As a service coordinator and developmental specialist, having this knowledge will help me brainstorm with parents whenever and if this particular concern about speech comes up. I am also inspired to learn more about Gestalt Language Processing. Thanks so much!

I greatly appreciated the information on learning/using language in "chunks" as well as thinking of echolalia as a means to communicate.
